AMGCSI Expedition Information

Alaska Mountain Guides and Climbing School Inc. (AMGCSI) trips are wilderness expeditions, varying in length from five days to three months. AMGCSI expeditions operate in remote areas where evacuation to modern medical facilities may take days.

Weather conditions can be extreme with temperatures ranging from -40 F to +100 F. Prolonged storms, high winds, intense sunlight, sudden immersion in cold water and/or high seas are possible.

Physical demands on the applicant may include carrying a backpack weighing between 55-85 pounds over uneven terrain such as snow, rocks, boulders, fallen logs, or slippery surfaces as well as ascending and descending steep mountain slopes. Elevations may vary and specific trips/courses may reach up to 23,000ft. Physical demands of sea kayaking and river courses require paddling heavily loaded kayaks, canoes or rafts and lifting and carrying boats over uneven terrain.

While participating on an AMGCSI expedition, guests will sleep outdoors, experience long physically demanding days, set up their own camp and prepare their own meals. Each participant is expected to take good care of him or herself.

AMGCSI is not a rehabilitation program. AMGCSI is not the place to quit smoking, drinking or drugs or to work through behavioral or psychological problems.

Prior physical conditioning and an enthusiastic mental attitude are a necessity. Guests may find an AMGCSI trip to be extremely demanding experiences both physically and emotionally.

In the interest of the personal safety of both the participant and the other expedition members, please consider the questions carefully when completing the health form. A "Yes" answer does not automatically cancel a guest's enrollment. If we have any questions on the guest's capacity to successfully complete the trip we will call the guest to discuss it.
